THE HOT AIR PAGE

We are pleased to present this sale for the C.N.A. Annual Convention. Our goal in preparing this catalog was to provide floor bidders and mail bidders a broad spectrum of select items covering virtually all areas of numismatics. We were pleased to receive material for this sale from 110 consignors. In some cases, due to extensive duplication or low value, items were returned. Other items were placed in a section for mail bids only as we saw no advantage in placing them in already lengthy floor sessions. Typically the type of material listed in that section goes to mail bidders. We expect highly competitive bidding on many of the lots.

Several of the lots in this sale have never before been offered publicly while others have not appeared at auction for more than 50 years. Several items have not previously been reported.

We have received numerous requests for estimates. You will find a separate estimate sheet included with your catalog. We hope you find this helpful. These estimates are intended only as a general guide and hopefully will not inhibit your bidding.

We are looking forward to an exciting convention in Vancouver. Vancouver is a pleasant summer vacation destination and the C.N.A. convention offers many additional activities of interest. Among the highlights of the numismatic activities are the O.I.N. Basic Counterfeit Detection Seminar prior to the convention and an advanced Seminar after the convention. Some of the top experts in North America and Europe will be on hand giving personal instruction to seminar participants. The advanced seminar has not previously been offered and is open only to individuals who have taken the basic seminar.

For those planning to attend the convention, please note a late change in the location. Hotel Vancouver has closed due to labor difficulties. Thus the convention will be held at the Holiday Inn—City Center (Harbor View).

In closing, I would like to thank the C.N.A. for giving us the opportunity to conduct this sale. Special thanks go to the C.N.A. Executive Committee and the Vancouver Coin Club Officers for their assistance and cooperation. It has been a pleasure working with them.
